Description

With impressive intricate carving to the front , on the doors panels ,either side of the doors, on the big full width drawer at the base of the cupboard and on the architrave a frieze of three dimensional carving. St Peter hides the key lock in the centre panel. The handles to the drawer below the cupboard are bear heads. Just a few details I could go on all day. The cupboard rests on octagonal spherical feet. Very unusual. As well as the ornate carving the deep curve and edge design is repeated in great relief throughout the piece as well. The boldness and intricacy of the piece is seen to be believed. It can be dismantled into 8 pieces.
